

Interested in Formal Training?

Pet Partners advocates for positive reinforcement and force free methods of training because it contributes to the trusting relationship you are building with your pet. If you do choose to use a professional trainer for your pet, you need to consider the methodology used. Pet Partners of Central New York is pleased to suggest the following trainers. We are not affiliated with and do not benefit in any way from these recommendations. Please note that using a professional trainer does not guarantee a passing Pet Partner evaluation score.
